CHOIR INSTRUMENTAL

"Those are a success who have lived well, laughed often, and loved much;
who have gained the respect of intelligent children;
who have filled their niche and
accomplished their task;
who leave the world better than they found it;
whether by a perfect poem
or a rescued soul;
who never lacked appreciation of the Earth's beauty
or failed to express it;
who looked for the best in others and gave the best they had.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Welcome to Crescenta Valley High School's Pops Concert 2006!

This year, we have chosen the theme "Heroes." Every song played tonight can be traced to a hero in some way. We have included song descriptions elsewhere in this program and you can read about each song played in this concert to see how they have heroic connections. Looking for a standard definition of "hero," we went to the Internet and found a wide range of plausible definitions. Heroes range from sandwiches to "a man distinguished by exceptional courage and nobility and strength." We then surveyed every student in the instrumental music department to find out who inspires them and who they thought of as a "hero." Over 200 responses came back and after sifting, sorting and searching through them we found some common categories.

The top category was "Family" with 125 responses. The next popular category was Educators with 15 responses and the 3rd most popular response was a tie between musical and comic Superheroes, each with 13 responses. The least popular response was "Celebrities." The most popular hero by far was "Mom." We have included a summary of their responses for you to enjoy.

Heroes inspire us to do better. They are people we look up to and they help us become who we are.

Tonight, we will be reminded of many types of heroes: Fictional, National, Musical, "Super," Historical, and cultural. Sit back, relax and enjoy the show.

Charlie Brown - Charlie Brown is the child hero of the newspaper comic strip Peanuts. Charlie Brown is a lovable loser who dreams of hitting the game-winning home run but usually strikes out. For 50 years, Charlie Brown and his dog Snoopy appeared in newspapers around the world. A few of Charlie Brown's traits have become particularly famous: his phrase of dismay, "Good grief!", his unrequited love for the unseen little red-haired girl; his philosophical discussions with his blanket-carrying chum Linus; and his annual attempts to kick a football held by Linus's sneaky sister Lucy. Schulz drew the strip right up until his death in 2000, since that time it has continued in reruns in hundreds of newspapers.

Mozart - Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart is among the most significant and enduringly popular composers of European classical music. His enormous output includes works that are widely acknowledged as pinnacles of symphonic, chamber, piano, operatic, and choral music. Many of his works are part of the standard concert repertoire and are widely recognized as masterpieces of the classical style. Even his influence in popular music is monumental. The leader of the rock group Queen, Freddie Mercury, is well-known for his Mozart-affected piano playing.

Zorro - Zorro, Spanish for fox, is the secret identity of Don Diego de la Vega (originally Don Diego Vega), a fictional nobleman and master swordsman living in Spanish-era California. He defends the Californio people from the corrupt tyranny of the Spanish governor, proving himself to be much too foxlike and cunning for the bumbling authorities to catch. He was created by pulp writer Johnston McCully, and first made his appearance in The Curse of Capistrano in 1919. Zorro wears a black costume with a cape, a small flat-brimmed hat and a black cowl mask. In addition, his favored weapon is a rapier, which he often uses to leave his distinctive emblem, a large "Z" made from three quick slashes.

Outra Coisa - means "Another Thing" in Brazilian, by composer Moacir Santos, a modern musical hero of Brazil. His works do not fit into any period of Brazilian popular music. While the world was drawn to the Bossa Nova of the 1960's, Moacir was writing film scores with a distinctly African flavor. Trumpeter Wynton Marsalis called Moacir a "living encyclopedia" of jazz and compared him to Thelonious Monk and Beethoven for his inventiveness, and to Duke Ellington for his orchestral clarity. Santos is retired and now lives in Pasadena.

Spider-Man - Spider-Man's superhero powers include the ability to cling to walls and ceilings, super-human strength and agility, and an extra-sensory "Spider Sense". Stan Lee's early Spider-Man stories broke new ground by attempting to relate to readers with a younger character who balanced his personal struggles with his heroic exploits. His alter ego, Peter Parker, grows up dealing with everyday problems (love, school, work, rent, etc.), while Spider-Man, devotes himself to fighting injustice, driven by the realization that "with great power there must also come great responsibility." He has become one of the world's most popular, enduring and well-recognized "friendly neighborhood" hero.

Wicked - Wicked, loosely based on by Gregory Maguire's book Wicked: The Life and Times of the Wicked Witch of the West, is an alternative story to L. Frank Baum's classic book The Wonderful Wizard of Oz. Set in the days prior to Dorothy's arrival from Kansas, the story explores the idea that the infamous antagonist we call the Wicked Witch of the West was misconstrued and victimized. At Shiz University, the intelligent green-skinned woman, Elphaba Thropp, meets beautiful and ambitious Glinda Upland (who later becomes Glinda the Good Witch) when the two become roommates. They live intertwined, and their friendship struggles to endure extreme personality differences, opposing viewpoints, rivalry over the same love-interest, and of course, Elphaba's eventual tragic fall from grace.

Forrest Gump - The story follows the life of simple Forrest Gump and his meeting with the love of his life Jenny. The film chronicles his accidental experiences with some of the most important people and events in America from the late 1950's through the 1970's including a meeting with Elvis Presley, JFK, Lyndon Johnson, Richard Nixon, fighting in Vietnam, etc. Forrest becomes representative of the baby boomer generation having walked through life blindly.

Shaft - John Shaft is a fictional character created by screenwriter/novelist Ernest Tidyman as a sort of African-American answer to Ian Fleming's James Bond. He was portrayed by Richard Roundtree in the 1971 film, and by Samuel L. Jackson in the 2000 remake. The blurb on the paperback on which the original film is based states Shaft is "Hotter than Bond, cooler than Bullitt."

Family Guy - Family Guy is an American animated sitcom created in 1999. The title character is Peter Griffin, an inept blue-collar worker head of a middle class family frequently beset by the consequences of his foolish antics. Family Guy's brand of humor is notable for the usually brief, frequently nonsensical cutaways (usually featuring oddball pop culture references) and flashbacks to various points in history, geography, and reality involving the characters and their ludicrous actions.

Superman - is SUPERMAN!! What more needs to be said? J. Superman is a fictional character and superhero of DC Comics who first appeared in Action Comics #1 in 1938 and is considered the first character to embody the particular combination of traits that characterize the modern superhero. Superman was born Kal-El on the planet Krypton and, as an infant, was rocketed to Earth by Jor-El, his scientist father, moments before Krypton exploded. The ship landed on Earth outside the town of Smallville, where young Kal-El was discovered and adopted by the amiable Jonathan and Martha Kent. As he grew, he discovered that he possessed powers far beyond those of mortal men and women and resolves to use them to help others. When not fighting the forces of evil as Superman, he lives disguised among humanity as "mild-mannered" Clark Kent, a reporter for the Metropolis Daily Planet. Clark works alongside reporter Lois Lane, with whom he is romantically involved.

Heroes of the Small Screen - "Heroes of the Small Screen" is a compilation of contemporary American heroes, from Hill Street Blues, The Rockford Files, Law and Order, Magnum P.I., The "A" Team, and the Greatest American Hero.

I Wanna Be Like You - The Jungle Book is the nineteenth animated feature in the Disney animated features canon. "I Wanna Be Like You" is sung by Jungle Book characters King Louie the Ape and Baloo the Bear to Mowgli, their human charge.

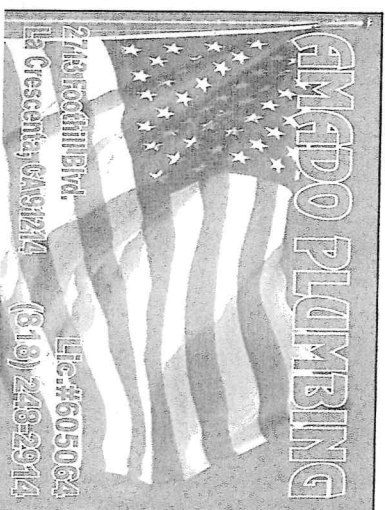

Hunting Wabbits - The fictional cartoon character Elmer Fudd is one of the most famous Looney Tunes/Merrie Melodies characters. His aim is to shoot Bugs Bunny, but he generally ends up seriously injuring himself instead. In every episode that he is in, he always says the phrase: "Be vewy vewy quwiet I'm hunting wabbits ... hehehehehe!"

O Brother, Where Art Thou? - Very loosely based on Homer's "The Odyssey", O Brother, Where Art Thou? is a musical comedy film written and directed by Joel and Ethan Coen, set in Mississippi during the Great Depression (specifically, 1937). The hero of the film is a dapper, smooth-talking con man called Ulysses Everett McGill. Ulysses escapes from a chain gang and brings along the two fellow prisoners chained to him with the promise of recovering buried treasure from a heist. In truth, he only wants to get back to his wife before she marries someone else.

The Incredibles - Bob Parr, formerly the superhero 'Mr. Incredible', lives a quiet suburban life with his wife Helen, formerly Elastigirl, and their two super-powered children (and their baby, whose superpowers are yet to be awakened). Bored with this mundane life, he occasionally sneaks out to fight crime and protect the innocent. Upon receiving a mysterious benefactor's invitation to be a hero again, Mr. Incredible leaps at the opportunity. However, the "benefactor" turns out to be a villain who carries a grudge, and is out to destroy Mr. Incredible. His family must heroically unite to save their father and the world!

"When you perform... you are out of yourself - larger and more potent, more beautiful. You are for minutes heroic. This is power. This is glory on Earth. And it is yours nightly."

Definitions - What is a Hero?

Someone who...

- ... takes initiative and does something. JL
- ... is willing to sacrifice and accept responsibility.
- ... makes small differences to make the world better, like volunteers, because everything big starts from something small.
- ... rises to be brave in the face of danger and never backs down.
- ... change the world significantly, person who we follow, look up to with astonishment and eagerness to learn from, stars whom we look upon.
- ... tries to make the world a better place.
- ... not celebrities or superheroes, just normal people in my life who've helped me.
- ... makes a difference in someone's life is a hero, whether it is a big favor or just a smile while passing in the hallway. CM
- ... Strives to made a difference in the world, be a positive influence on people. JC
- ... all the normal people that live their lives to the fullest, who make the best of their lives and situations. JN
- ... "My hero does not wear a cape, but a pair of wings instead. ML
- ... look up to, encourages me musically. JS
- ... helps other people. JK
- ... risks themselves for other people. KY
- ... a mentor, who never compromises her integrity.
- ... Is defined by their achievements, changed something in the world, achieved something no one else has accomplished. KA
- ... tries to make a difference in this world.
- ... makes the ultimate sacrifice, like Martin Luther King.
- ... anyone who puts their character and morale judgment before their personal desires is a hero.
- ... a person who in the face of crisis becomes more than just a person. People panic and think of themselves, but heroes stay functional and think of others. JG
- ... passes on the good wisdom to someone else.
- ... can dance like no one's watching, sing like they know the words, and love like it doesn't hurt. KM
- ... people who have more opportunities than normal people. AM
- ... willing to put a greater cause before themselves, does not command attention or desire praise, underdog that finds joy in helping. SS

Heroes Among Us

My Hero is someone in my own family...

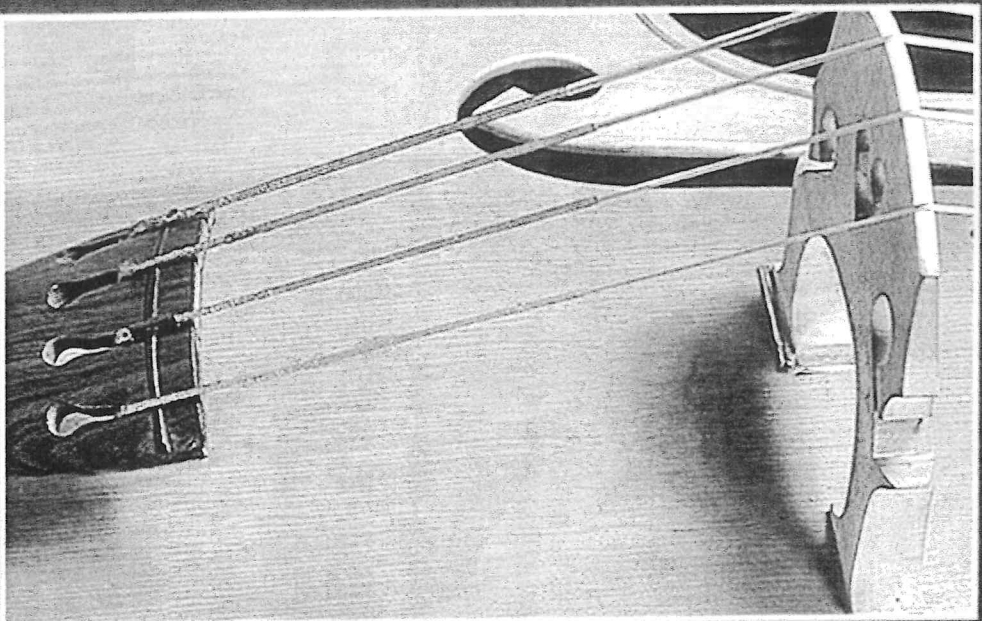

Mom... spiritually, mentally strong person. Never complains and is never negative. KI Always puts others before herself. SL Listens to me and supports me. JY Always an understanding and supportive role model. AK Most supportive person I know. YK Manages to take care of everything in her life. BE Works hard and still spends time with me. JK Will always be there for me, I can always count on her. PP Sacrifices her time to support and encourage me. CW Makes me realize how much is possible. AC Done so much for me. GK Single mom, but no sign of complaint. I hope to emulate her. SC Works hard and no matter how tired she is, always has time for us. SK Saves lives as a nurse and saves my life with love. SL Someone I can look up to and try to emulate. CC She can do anything I ask of her. JK She shows me that any hardship can be overcome, she doesn't have to tell me to be strong, her actions alone inspire me. TC Has gone through a lot but still able to listen and give advice. SW Supports me to push myself to become better at what I do. KD Amazing in every way, doing school and interning and still taking care of family. OT Does so many things for me, she loves me. DS Been there for me, connect at deep level, loves me as both mom and friend. AG Endured a lot, stands firm against odds, defends her kids. JL Keeps track of family, finds time for others and her writing. SP Showed me that there can be many unexpected things that occur in life but we need to live with it by faith. SY Struggles she has overcome remind me that I should never give up. EM She is kind, genuine and giving, qualities I aspire to have. WP Many struggles with finances and health, never giving up. SC Always there despite any situation, she is strong. CK Listens, supports, comforts. EA Her words of wisdom motivate me to "carpe diem". SC Coolest mom ever, understands everything I go through. EW

Dad... More than someone who saves lives, my dad is a normal, hard-working father and role model. Reminds me that my future will depend on my actions. IL He has faced many challenges as an immigrant, and made many sacrifices. DK My dad is a person who can listen and understand what I say, considerate of my thoughts and actions. SA He has taught me to do many things and helped me excel in all my subjects. AA He is the hardest worker I know, sets goals and tries his hardest to achieve them. LS He sacrifices to make sure I'm happy. SS He is successful, loves me and provides for me. WP My dad has a sense of fun, able to get me to relax. JP My father has influences and changed my life. CS He can stand anything, he has battled illness and stress like no other. Has the ability to balance both work and family, which is amazing to me. WK Strong physically and mentally, completely supportive of me and helps me succeed in anything I set my mind to. MY My father has showed me how to achieve and helped me when I went thru hard times. SY He has helped me become the person I am today, has taught me almost everything I know. MB He inspired me to learn and become successful and follow his footsteps. HE Best dad anyone could ask for, best supporter in my life. SK He care for people in poverty, helps by going on missions. TP He is modest about accomplishments, as a teacher he is the only caring, educated adult in many of his students lives. HS Parents... They dedicate themselves to my success. AP Patient, kind, they can take nothing and make it prosper. IL Through the toughest times they've stuck it out because they knew it would be worth it in the end. SA Sacrifice so many times for me, even if I complain they continue to love me. TL They love me unconditionally and provide me with support. SC They have taught me so much. ZS Always there to support me. IL They see what is right, and are working to improve the world. RG My foundation, I aspire to be like them. CP They always act rightly and honestly. SO They have taught me manners, given me guidance, filled me with pride. SH They sacrificed so much so that I could have a better life. EC They have great courage. When things are hard they try not to cry and always smile in front of me. MR Sacrificed everything for me. XY They love me and support me in all I do. MN Work so hard 24/7 and also support me at the same time. LP Without them, I wouldn't be where I am today. YS Nobody else will always be behind me. JY They sacrifice to make me a better person. SL They want me to have an easier life than they had. IK

Other family... My brother takes care of me, sets a good example. EO Sister has always been there for me, she is my closest friend. EK My Grandfather has a striving will to work hard and to please others. BN My aunt convinced me to stick to it when I decided to stop trying hard. GS My sister is not Wonder Woman, but she has saved me from making silly mistakes and life blunders. SH I am my own hero, because the limits of what I can push myself are endless. TG My sister takes care of me even though she isn't obligated to. SK My sister inspires me to not only be a hard worker but a great person. DP My grandfather taught me to grow, conquer, embrace life, get back up. JH Sister has been through many obstacles in life, but still stands strong, always there to guide me. EP Cousin is always willing to sacrifice what is necessary for the better, gives up his pride for his younger brother. KK My grandmother because she lives life without complaints, doesn't take anything in life for granted, doesn't regret things in the past. GS My whole family, I depend on them, they know me truly and give me the best advice. HY My brother so caring and sincere, thinks of others before himself. EH My brother takes responsibility upon himself, always a person I can confide in. CA My cousin knows a lot and has taught me important things in life. YK My grandfather is loving, willing to help others in need before himself, leads me in the right direction. MC My brother sets a good example for me as a person and a student. SK My brother can make me laugh, he is smart, and fun to fight with. AC Grandmother gives me advice and prays for me. LH My cousin helps me with troubles and homework. HY My brother is a great role model, he keeps me out of trouble. DB My cousin has done great things to help me in life, he makes good choices. IL Older brother is my hero because he knows how to handle any situation. MW My family made me determined never to give up on life and love. JH My grandmother, always hardworking even through illness and blindness, still out in the garden and active at church. NV My sister is independent, hard-working, has a heart of gold, and makes time for me. SM My brother has been there for my ups and downs, I can talk to him about anything. HC My aunt, who has great knowledge and experience, she proceeds through life laughing and honest. LC

What will you be doing this summer?

More importantly, what will you be doing 4 years from now? Will you be enjoying the best years of your life at the college of your dreams or just dreaming? We have AP, SAT I & II summer classes with simple goals: improve your test scores and GPA. Before you decide to "rest" away your summer, give us a call. There's a good reason why so many of your friends know and trust us.
